Accumulate

The Art School for The Homeless

WHO WE ARE Est. 2014 Accumulate uses creativity to improve the wellbeing of young people affected by homelessness. We work with hostels and housing organisations to deliver learning experiences and show casing opportunities in art, photography, creative writing, audio-visual production, fashion and other creative disciplines. As well as our regular 10-week workshops delivered throughout the year, we fundraise for Higher Education scholarships for our participants.

Accumulate is the bridge between the UK's creative excellence and the most socially disadvantaged. Drawing on our connections across renowned education institutes and industry practitioners, as well as long-standing relationships with hostels and charities, we are London's centre of education for creative arts and media for the homeless.

WE WANT TO DO MORE We want our activity to reach more people and we want to share the benefits of our creative expertise with you through our creative workshops.

Our sessions will enable you to:

- Learn new creative skills with our professional tutors
- See first-hand the positive impacts of creativity
- Support Accumulate activity, enabling us to provide more workshops, scholarships and support for those affected by homelessness.

OUR IMPACT “Accumulate has really been a lifesaver for me” – Nikol, Accumulate Scholarship recipient.

“I [am] extremely grateful for Accumulate as my life might have been entirely different...all the course leaders/tutors help me to gain self-belief and self-esteem...” Crystal, Accumulate Scholarship recipient.

“A trillion, quadrillion thanks for the most amazingly awesome creative course ever. I can't express how much it's expanded my energies and contributed to my creativity mindset”, Theresa, Accumulate participant.

“It's a community. You build relationships with people who you got to the workshops with. It gives you a feeling of being part of something.”
- Mitchel, Accumulate workshop participant.
